2016 Kurnitz Writing Award
an english writing contest for non-native speakers

Call for entries

Novels ● Short Stories ● Poetry
all types of creative writing are welcome

The Kurnitz writing award competition has been a UCLA tradition for more than 40 years. The contest is open to international students who are non-native speakers of English.

ALL ENTRIES MUST BE RECEIVED BY FRIDAY, MARCH 11

$2,500 First Prize
$1,000 Second Prize
$300 Third Prize

Applicants must be currently enrolled UCLA international students* and are non-native speakers of English.

To apply visit our website www.internationalcenter.ucla.edu

*UCLA Extension, VGRs, certificate program, and AB540 students are ineligible for this award.

The Kurnitz Creative Writing Award competition is funded by a private endowment and administered by the Dashew Center for International Students and Scholars.