A 2012 survey of graduating UCLA F-1 international students shows that those who will work after graduation (in the U.S. on OPT, in the U.S. on a work visa, or abroad) will primarily be employed in positions in technology, higher education, or finance sectors (a total of 53% of respondents).

F-1 students in 2012 reported receiving offers of employment from leading organizations within their respective fields. A sample of technology, finance, and academic institutions that hired UCLA F-1 international students who graduated in 2012 is listed below.

Recently Graduating UCLA F-1 International Students Have Reported Being Hired by the Following Companies

Tech
- Akamai Technology
- Amazon
- Arista Networks
- Broadcom
- D2 Technologies
- Facebook
- Google
- Juniper Networks
- LinkedIn

Finance
- Bank Of America
- Citibank
- East West Bank
- First Republic Bank
- ITG
- J.P. Morgan Chase
- Morgan Stanley
- Shinnecock Partners
- Spectrum Financial Resources
- Woori Investment & Securities

Academia
- Caltech
- National Chiao Tung University
- Northwestern University
- Stanford University
- UCLA
- UCSF
- University of Hawaii
- University of Pennsylvania
- University of Texas at Austin
- University of Tokyo
- Yale University