As an incoming international transfer student it is expected that you attend the Dashew Center’s NISSO (New International Student & Scholar Orientation) as well as the New Student Orientation.

Important Notes Before You Register:

1) It is necessary for all international transfer students to attend both orientations, even if you have attended orientations and check-ins at your previous school. UCLA has its own requirements for check-in and workshops, so attending sessions at your previous institution DOES NOT exempt you from attending NISSO and New Student Orientation.

2) If you have questions about your I-20, please contact the Undergraduate Admissions office at: newbruins@saonet.ucla.edu

3) Spouses, Dependents and Family are allowed to attend NISSO, the registration fee is the same. Family is encouraged to participate with you to get to know UCLA and Los Angeles together.
